

MAKE YOUR DAY

A SCHOOL-WIDE CITIZENSHIP PROGRAM THAT ALLOWS
TEACHERS TO TEACH AND ALLOWS STUDENTS TO LEARN

Make Your Day Teaches Us

We love it when we have an opportunity to revisit a school because we can see everyone working - staff and students. These visits provide us with ideas and ways to teach about MYD that prove helpful for everyone. The following are a few of the highlights from a recent visit to Westgate Elementary School in Kennewick, Washington.

Using the MYD Student Committee

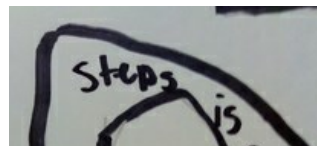

Several posters adorn the hallways throughout the school that describe "Make Your Day the Wildcat Way."

No Language Barrier

In a school community in which dozens of languages are spoken this is an example of how to describe the school rule and classroom expectations clearly.

Teachers are Helping Us Learn...

"Steps help us learn about not getting in trouble and not hurting people's feelings."

"When we don't make our day it's not bad. Our teachers are teaching us about how to do better."
